

STATE TO NAME PRESIDENTIAL PREFERENCE TODAY;
CLOSE RACES ENLIVEN FULTON COUNTY ELECTION

Coolidge Is Leading Johnson in North Dakota

MADDOO IS GIVEN DEMOCRATIC VOTE
WITHOUT BATTLE

With Coolidge and Johnson Headquarters Express Confidence as Early Returns Are Received.

CALIFORNIAN DEPENDS UPON FARMER VOTES

Sticker Campaign Inaugurated for Senator La Follette Shows Comparatively Small Success.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Chicago, N. D., March 18.—Main-ing a ratio established in first stus, President Coolidge was lead-Senator Hiram Johnson of Calinia 2 to 1 for the republican presidential endorsement when 118 presents had reported from today's wide primary in North Dakota.

When 118 precincts had reported,
Coolidge, 5,143; Johnson, 3,842;
La Follette, 1,885.

Sticker Campaign Loses.

As the volume of returns increased light, the small vote reported for Senator La Follette showed comparatively little success for the sticker campaign instituted in his behalf in closing days of the campaign, and early returns apparently showed contest had narrowed to a race between President Coolidge and Senator Johnson.

St. Marck, capital city of the state, the president a plurality of ly two to one over Senator John-who in turn had a corresponding margin over La Follette, the vote that city, all precincts reported,
Coolidge 971; Johnson 498;
La Follette 236.

Both city and rural districts resulted in an advantage for the ident, although rural returns are menger as yet.

Reports from over the state indicate a light vote.

Principal interest attached to the Republican presidential contest, with Coolidge and Senator Hiram
Johnson on the official ballot Senator Robert M. La Follette in race through a sticker campaign.

McAdoo Gets Vote.

In the democratic field the vote was usually light with William G. Mc-Adoo unopposed for endorsement.

Both the Johnson and Coolidge headquarters tonight were expressing confidence in the outcome, with Coolidge backers of the opinion that the margin to past in La Follette's would cut into the Johnson margin.

Returns were principally from larger cities where Johnson supports have conceded Coolidge's superior strength, contending that it is the smaller cities and rural presents that the Californian's power

MACON MAN KILLED
BY AUTO HEARSE;
WEEK NEGRO DRIVER

Macon, Ga., March 18.—Walter E.
Hearse, 39, boilermaker for the lance railway, was knocked down killed by an automobile hearse as stepped from a street car late tonight. Police are hunting for the negro driver of the hearse.

All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy—and Jill an old woman!

The woman who systematizes her buying, wastes
no time covering the same ground twice.

The Constitution carries the announcements of the very best stores and the very best goods in all lines.

It carries the very last and lowest prices made each morning by the merchants of Atlanta for the day.

No lower prices can possibly be had. She knows this and lists her needs from its columns. She quickly clears her day of this part of the work

It's great to print a morning paper in Atlanta!

U. S. AMBASSADOR TO JAPAN PRAISED FOR AID IN QUAKE

Tokio, March 18.—American Ambassador Woods and Mrs. Woods attended a luncheon in their honor in the imperial palace today. They were the first guests to be entertained by the prince regent and his bride since the wedding. No other foreigners were present. It was explained the prince regent desired to express his appreciation of the ambassador's "unselfish and efficient aid at the time of Japan's great calamity."

DOME OIL LEASE
LAID TO HARDING

Mysterious Darden Says
President Told Him, "I Want To Take Care of My Friend."

Baltimore, Md., March 18.—The Evening Sun in a copyrighted story today prints statements made by James G. Darden, sought by the senate oil committee, explaining his connection with Teapot Dome and his relations with President Harding, former Secretary Fall and others.

Mr. Darden said he got his leases in the Teapot land from a democratic administration between the election of President Harding and his inauguration.

He declared that Mr. Harding, whom he had known for years, called him to the white house and offered to do something to protect his interests in the Teapot Dome oil leases.

"What can I do?" Darden quoted President Harding as saying to him.
"I want to take care of my friend."
Fall says he is going to send marines out there. He is TNT on the subject."

Resorts to Law.

Darden said he wouldn't let the president "get mixed up in it," so he told Mr. Harding there was only one thing to do, take it into court, which he did. He did not see Attorney General Daugherty, he said.

Mr. Darden asserted that he and former Secretary Fall "had been enemies for thirty-five years."

When he heard about Harry F.
Sinclair getting the Teapot Dome lease he went to see Fall, then secretary of the interior.

"We had a three-hour session," said Darden. "He said to me, 'Sinclair will take care of you just like he will take care of all the others.'"
I wasn't satisfied with that. I kept after Fall and he said, 'Well, I don't care, I'm going to quit.'"

Darden said his connection with Teapot Dome arose through his association with the Champion family in Colorado, which had large interests in the west. The late John P. Champion, Robert Taylor and himself acquired 240 acres in Salt Creek and 100 acres in Teapot Dome, he said.

Mr. Darden expects to appear before the committee tomorrow, he said.

SLEMP DEFENDS DEALS
MADE IN OIL STOCKS

Washington, March 18.—C. Bascom Slemp, secretary to President Coolidge, today described the oil stock purchases he made while a member of the house as "perfectly legitimate transactions which need no explanations."

"P. W. Slemp" for whom Secretary Slemp bought 100 shares of Mexican Petroleum in 1922, according to records laid before the oil committee, was identified by the president's secretary as his cousin, who is associated with him in business.

Mexican Seaboard, another stock company owned by Slemp, was invested in the oil business.

ESCAPE FOILED, SATTERFIELD MAY SEEK REHEARING

Court To Fix Execution
Date Late This Week
If No Motion for Rehearing Is Filed.

LOWRY IS PROBING
METHODS OF ESCAPE

Expects Arrest Within Few Days, Sheriff Says.
Slayer Remains Silent
Regarding His Getaway.

Foiled in his sensational dash for liberty from the Fulton county jail,
J. B. Satterfield, condemned slayer of his brother-in-law, R. H. Hart, may ask for a rehearing by the supreme court of Georgia of his appeal from the death sentence.

This was indicated Tuesday by Sat-terfield's chief counsel, Murphy M.
Holloway. The attorney's statement was made only a few hours after Satterfield had saved his way out of the jail and avoided capture for eight hours, being taken into custody Monday night at 6 o'clock by two citizens who found him lying exhausted in the woods near Lakewood.

While Attorney Holloway considered the possibility of a motion for a rehearing, Sheriff James I. Lowry sought vainly, he announced, for a clue as to Satterfield's methods in escaping from his locked cell and how he secured the fine steel saws with which he cut the bars of the tower window.

This investigation is receiving my personal attention and we hope to be able to gather clues within the next few days upon which to base an arrest," Sheriff Lowry stated.

Satterfield Silent.

Satterfield maintained his silence
as to the source from which the saws came, though he added that no outside help was given him. If he was in any way peered with his captors, W. C. Rosette, who conducts a filling station on South Pryor street, or D.
L. Cushman, a Lakewood camper, he denied.

IMMUNITY DENIED
GROVER BERGDOLL

U. S. Will Offer No Inducement to Wealthy Draft Dodger To Return From Germany.

Washington, March 18.—War and state department officials today jointly announced that the Washington government would enter no arrangement to extend immunity to Grover Bergdoll, an inducement for his return from Germany. The government has taken no part in steps to have the draft evader return.

FEARS PUBLICITY BLOCKS
RETURN OF BERGDOLL.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 18.—Commenting on dispatches from Germany, stating that Grover Cleveland Berg-doll, America's arch-sneaker, had declined to enter an agreement to return to the United States, John Quinn, national commander of the American Legion, declared today that he feared the plan to have Bergdoll end his long exile has been disrupted by premature publicity.

Commander Quinn, who was in Cincinnati to speak at a Saint Patrick day celebration and who was to return to Indianapolis today, admitted that the legion had used every lawful means of persuasion to induce Bergdoll to come back and serve his sentence, and expressed disappointment over the developments.

"This last attempt to 'bring Berg-doll' back was worked out by Garland Powell, chairman of the legion's Americanization committee and myself," said Quinn. "We sent a representative to Bergdoll, urging him to give up his residence in Germany, which not only was embarrassing the government of the United States, but the government of Germany."

"But our representative was instructed absolutely to use no force and to break no laws. He was instructed to depend absolutely on persuasion."

The public of Atlanta will not be confused about the two Better Homes weeks which have been planned by different interests, the exhibit, which is being sponsored by The Constitution and co-operating merchants, will hereafter be called "Home Beautiful" week.

This is done merely to distinguish the two movements, both of which have the same purpose in view.

The "Home Beautiful" exhibit will be held from March 30 to April 6, in which three pretty, but entirely average houses have been loaned for the purpose by different real estate firms and home-building companies in Atlanta. House No. 1, valued at $22,500, is loaned by J. R. Smith &
M. S. Rankin, realtors, and is located in the subdivision of Morningside, House No. 2, valued at $9,750, is loaned by Adair Realty and Trust company, and is located in the new section which is being developed as Glendale Terrace. House No. 3, valued at $5,700, is loaned by W. D.

Beatie, and located at 252 Sylvan road, Capitol View.

The term "Better Homes" has been used for several years as a slogan by those most interested in the betterment of homes and home environment in America.

Teach by Example.

When The Constitution and the merchants of Atlanta decided to furnish three houses with but one thought in view—to educate the people by correct examples of how a home should be furnished—they adopted the term "Better Homes" as the one most appropriate for the purpose.

This has caused some confusion in the minds of Atlantans, and because another worthy movement had adopted the term "Better Homes" it is thought best to designate the exhibit which will be held from March 30 to April 6 as "Home Beautiful" week.

Spiritual Sleuthing of Maid
OFFICERS FAIL TO GIVE HER ENOUGH EVIDENCE Upset by Bungling of Men

BY HARLAN S. MILLER.
Chicago, March 18.—The astonishing bad luck that has taken some $8-000,000 worth of diamonds from salesmen in the past few years, and some $8,000,000 in their insurance from Lloyd's in the same time, was nearly scotched by Eugene Dennis, of Atchison, Kan., of the uncanny eyes and spiritualist connections with the beyond.

But just like a stupid man, the district attorney failed to support Eu-genie's divinations with legal evidence Tuesday, and her fine job of sleuthing among the shades came to naught. A quartet of persons interested in diamonds and diamond salesmen, arrested on her reading of the stars, were freed.

Immediately Sought Psychic.

These robberies, in which diamond salesmen were gagged, blackjacked, lured, kidnaped, knockout-dropped, chloroformed and pocket-picked by unrelenting master-minds, are only a fraction of the losses that led Lloyd's to order the Burns Detective agency to spare no expense in unearthing the background of the diamond offense.

She told Louis about the girl he kissed in the chair loft when he was 13, and how a gang had offered him 10 per cent of the gems and 10 per cent of the insurance if he would slip them the diamonds.

He Admitted Kissing.

Louis admitted the kissing, and marveled how Eugene found out about it, but indignantly denied the conspiracy.

Nevertheless, he mentioned the names of a few friends in Chicago who would testify to his honesty and good fellowship.

Ala! Here was a clue for the two Burns men lurking in the shadows. Rad's Chicago friends, five of them, were arrested, and after a quiz, four were released Tuesday and the fifth will be as soon as he gets impatient.

The detectives straightway went to Eugenie, of Atchison, she of the marvelous marcel and the eyes that seemed to accuse all and sundry of eating the ultimate piece of ancel.

PROBERS SUMMON
CABINET OFFICERS

Mellon and Weeks Will Testify—Daugherty Issues Statement, Hitting Character of Evidence.

Washington, March 18.—Threading its way through a bewildering maze of charges and suspicions, the senate committee investigating Attorney General Daugherty, today heard testimony about deals in liquor, lotteries, and motion-picture films;
subpoenaed two cabinet officers to appear before it; and was again rebuked by Mr. Daugherty for the character of the evidence it has admitted to its official records.

The principal witness of the day,
William A. Orr, of New York, in part confirmed and in part denied the story of previous witnesses about an arrangement to exhibit the Dempsey-Carpentier fight pictures without prosecution. He then contributed an original thriller to the committee's long list of sensational episodes by admitting that he had paid at least $6,000, collected from various drug companies, to Howard Mannington, a friend of the attorney general, for the purpose of keeping certain liquor cases
"out of court."

Call Mellon and Weeks.

The two cabinet officers summoned to testify were Secretaries Mellon of the treasury and Weeks of the war department. They will be asked about various statements made in previous testimony, but their testimony is expected to deal largely with liquor permits, handled through the treasury, and with the Standard Aircraft case, in connection with which Gascon was indicted.

PLAN TO CHANGE
INAUGURAL DATE
PASSED IN SENATE

President Would Take Office on Third Monday in January Under Constitutional Amendment.

"LAME DUCK CONGRESS" WOULD BE ABOLISHED

Norris Says Change
Means Will of People in Election Would Become Reality at Once.

Washington, March 18.—A step toward adding another amendment to the constitution was taken today when the senate by a vote of 63 to 4 adopted a joint resolution to have presidents inaugurated the third Monday in January and new congresses go into office the first Monday in January after election.

The resolution which was offered by Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, now goes to the house where,
as in the senate, a two-thirds vote is necessary for adoption. If approved by the house it will then go to the states for ratification.

Explains Provisions.

Explaining provisions of the proposed amendment, Senator Norris in a statement said:

"First—The congress elected in November will go into office on the first Monday in January following, and a session of congress will then begin. This means that as soon as congress is elected it will commence its official duties without delay instead of waiting thirteen months before its members are actually sworn into office as under present conditions. This means the abolishment of the so-called 'lame duck congress' the old congress will have no session after the election. Not only will the people be able to have their will expressed in the election translated into law without delay, but an old congress which may have been repudiated at the election will have no further function to perform."

HEALTH IS FINE,
SAYS POPE PIUS,
DENYING ILLNESS

Rome, March 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—Reports of the ill health of Pope Pius were refuted today by the pontiff himself in an energetic statement.

"I have got to die sooner or later,"
a well-known functionary quotes His Holiness as saying. "What passes my comprehension is why people are so anxious to make it so dreadfully soon.
I, myself, say frankly that I know no reason why it should be in the near future. I have perhaps never felt better or more energetic than just now."

Washington, March 18.—With the "gag rule" in force for the first time this session, the house has rushed through the soldiers' insurance bonus and has placed it in the hands of the senate. While verbal opposition to the measure was vigorous, though necessarily limited, only 54 votes were recorded against the bill, while 355 favored it.

The forty minutes of debate which preceded passage of the measure, introduced by Representative Green, of Iowa, chairman of the ways and means committee, were tense. Representatives were limited to one or two minutes and even half a minute, and generally their speeches were chipped off just as they had warmed up.

Opposition came from those who favored a straight cash option, and those who frowned on any bonus at all. There were many others who denounced the parliamentary maneuver of the middle-of-the-road republicans, tacitly supported by their moderate colleagues on the democratic side. When the time came to vote, however, this group jumped on the hand wagon and was recorded in favor of the Green bill.

Green Backers Glee.

While enemies of the measure heatedly denounced the bill and the method used to pass it, adherents of the Green plan sat by rocking with glee at the discomfort of their opponents.
During the short debate, Representative Longworth, of Ohio, majority leader, was red with laughter.

Every opportunity to kill the measure or at least to prolong consideration of it was afforded bonus opponents by Representative Green. When the house convened, he moved to "suspend the rules and pass the bill."

Under the rules of the house, this motion requires that at least two-thirds of the house favor the measure before and if the opponents could have mustered 146 votes, the measure would have gone down to defeat, would have been returned to the ways and means committee, and then would have been reported to the house in

PREMIER POINCARE
RIDES OVER FOES

Fiscal Proposals of the Government Are Adopted
Tuesday by Vote of 151 to 23.

BY JOHN O'BRIEN.
Paris, March 18.—Premier Poincare breathed a sigh of relief and settled down with consciousness of victory well won when the French senate adopted the government's fiscal projects by a vote of 151 to 23 Tuesday. The fact that most of the radicals abstained from voting did not worry the premier, for his measures had passed, despite the bitterest opposition he has yet faced.

The premier had won on every point. His plan for a 20 per cent increase in all taxes had been approved, he had gained the right to make economies effective, by decree, and had won on all minor points of the fiscal program with which he hopes to stabilize the franc and consolidate the nation's financial position by means of careful economies.

The franc, meanwhile, gave Poincare a little vote of confidence of its own, closing at 19.92 francs to the dollar, as contrasted to the quotations of more than 28 francs to the dollar
during the recent record slump.

Poincare now seems established securely in the saddle until the May elections. It is expected that his prestige will be increased here by publication of the report of the experts committee, and it is likewise considered possible that the premier's stock may rise another point through ultimate resumption of negotiations with Premier MacDonald of England. Well informed persons believe that the exchange of letters between the statesmen has paved the way for further action toward the settlement of outstanding Anglo-French problems.

Sees Aid of U. S.
In Giving Peace
To Riven Europe

Briton Predicts U. S. Will Not Leave Europe To "Stew in Own Juice."

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
New York, March 18.—America will unquestionably feel the impulse to work for permanent peace in Europe on which a large measure of her per-sperity depends and will not "leave Europe to stew in her own juice," Sir Keme Howard, new ambassador of Great Britain to the United States, declared tonight at the Pilgrim society's annual dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel. It was his first public address since he has assumed his post at Washington.

The customary Anglo-American nature of the function was given a broader international flavor by the presence among the speakers of Ambassador Jules Jusserand, of France, and Ambassador Don Juan Riano y Gayangos, of Spain, while among the hundreds of listeners to their addresses and those by John W. Davis, former American ambassador to Great Britain.

W. Underwood, United States senator from Alabama, and William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, for the Georgia vote at the next democratic national convention, comes to a close today with both sides claiming the victory.

The feverish heat with which eleventh hour efforts in Fulton county races were marked, indicated that in this county, at least, local politics will vie keenly with the presidential preference race.

Miller S. Bell, in charge of the Mc-Adoo campaign, declared in a final statement that the former member of the Wilson cabinet "had made such progress in Georgia since his recent speaking tour of the state that his success was assured."

R. C. Gordon, who is the campaign manager for Senator Underwood, declared Underwood would win by a majority of 245 county unit votes out of the 412 in the state.

During the course of the campaign, presidential politics have been enlivened by a "home-coming" tour of McAdoo, who visited his old home town, Marietta, and delivered addresses to large audiences in Atlanta, Macon, Savannah and Augusta.

Senator Underwood did not visit the state in the interest of his candidacy, but Senator J. Thomas Hefflin, of Alabama, spoke here in his behalf.

All Counties Vote.

The state democratic executive committee secretary said Tuesday night that the presidential preference primary will probably be held in every county in Georgia. County primaries for election of county officers in conjunction with the presidential preference race will be held in many counties.

In Fulton county a number of hot races are centering widespread interest. Chief among these is the contest between Roy Dorsey, candidate for re-election as solicitor of the criminal court, and John S. McClelland, his opponent. Another warm contest is seen between Sheriff James
I. Lowry and Chief of Police James
L. Beavers, for the office of sheriff.

Thomas C. Miller and J. W. Simmons oppose each other for clerk of the superior court, while W. H. Abbott and Marvin P. Roane are seeking the office of tax receiver.

HARRIS ASKS $100,000 TO FIGHT BOLL WEEVIL

Washington, March 18.—(Special.) Senator Harris introduced an amendment to the department of agriculture appropriation bill Tuesday providing $100,000 for use by the department in developing a cheaper process for making calcium arsenate, used in fighting the cotton boll weevil. Harris conferred with Dr. W. D. Hunter, of the department, in charge of southern crop work, and he expressed the view that a process could be developed which would make it possible to produce calcium arsenate at a cents per pound, which is about one-half of the present cost.

FEDERAL AGENTS NAB 18 STILLS IN TWO-DAY RAID

Eighteen whisky stills, four prisoners and nearly 18,000 gallons of beer were captured during a two-day series of raids in the vicinity of the Okefenokee swamp, according to reports to Federal Prohibition Director Fred D. Dismuke.

The stills ranged in size from 200 to 500-gallon capacity, it was reported, and were seized by Agents Bergstrom, Parks and Pierce.

Clifford Reese, of Cherokee county, was bound over to the federal grand jury under $200 bond by Commissioner W. C. Carter Tuesday following arraignment on charges of having in his possession about 50 gallons of corn whisky. He admitted ownership of the whisky and waived preliminary hearing. He was apprehended by Agents A. C. Sowell, F. W. Allred and Lou Adair. His automobile was seized.

FAIR SKIES TODAY Mercury May Drop to Freezing Point.

Atlanta's temperature will begin to fall during Wednesday and in all likelihood will reach the freezing point early Thursday, it was predicted Tuesday at the local weather office.

Fair weather is promised for Wednesday, much to the delight of candidates who are hopeful of a big vote in the primary. Before 7 a. m., when the polls are to be opened, chilling blasts from the Rocky Mountains will have reached Atlanta, the weather office forecasted.

Plans To Extend Limits of City To Be Discussed

Extension of Atlanta's city limits to include all of Druid Hills and Peachtree road section of Fulton county will be considered by the charter revision committee at a special public hearing at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon, it was announced Tuesday by W. E. Saunders, chairman.

A difference of opinion was developed among members of the committee in discussing proposed extensions Tuesday and a general debate appeared certain.

Members of the committee, who will pass later on school control changes and other matters requiring charter revision, are W. E. Saunders, chairman; W. H. Hartsfield, Claude E. Buchanan, Arthur Dyer, and Harry York.

REBELS ARE BEATEN AT HONDURAN CAPITAL

Washington, March 18.—Carras and Ferrera revolutionist forces have joined in a combined attack on Tegucigalpa, the Honduran capital, according to advices received today by the state department. The government forces defending the city were said to have been successful so far in repulsing the attackers. Fighting has been incessant since Friday afternoon. Considerable looting has occurred within the city and drunken soldiers were reported to have fired on the residence of Harold M. Dene, secretary of the American legation.

Legation officials have installed wireless equipment in order to continue communication with the outside in the event the government radio station is destroyed.

Macon Man Boosted For National Office In Exchange Club

Macon, Ga., March 18.—(Special.) R. L. Anderson, Macon lawyer and president of the Macon Exchange club, will be suggested for the third vice presidency of the National Exchange club, Percy Wright, of Miami, Fla., founder of the local club and one of the national organizers, announced at luncheon of the Macon club today.

The convention will be held in Nashville, Tenn., in September. Under the rotation system prevailing in the exchange organization, the third vice president would be elevated to the presidency within a few years, officials say.

Mr. Wright left for Columbus this afternoon in company with J. Huber Burney, who is one of the committee named to promote the organization of a club in Columbus.

DAY IN WASHINGTON

The house passed the soldier bonus bill, 355 to 54.

The senate confirmed the nomination of Curtis D. Wilbur to be secretary of the navy.

The navy department announced a program of strict economy for future administration of naval oil lands.

Attorney General Daugherty issued another statement summing up his activities in the department of justice.

President Coolidge decided to ask the agricultural credit corporation to assist northwestern wheat growers to diversify their crops.

The department of agriculture said the agricultural outlook for this year indicated that farmers were undertaking a normal production program.

Arbitration treaties between the United States and sixteen other American nations were favorably reported by the senate foreign relations committee.

The senate approved a constitutional amendment which would newly elected congresses and presidents take office in January following their election.

Oil, Daugherty and related subjects were debated in a senate floor with Senator Borah, republic Idaho, sounding a warning against abandonment of legislative duties "grand jury" proceedings.

The senate oil committee went into details of transactions in oil obtained from an expert accountants reports of such by Attorney General Daugherty and members of the senate and house.

Another Move in the Right Direction

We understand that the United States Department of Agriculture, having already established standards for butter, cheese and many other farm products, has now turned its attention to the establishing of a fixed standard for the proper grading of eggs. A tentative schedule has been made out by the department and submitted to the egg trade for criticism. It is hoped that this standard will soon be in effect, and the present non-uniform system regulated by one uniform over the whole United States, which will guarantee the buyer of eggs getting just the quality he contracts for.

FOR OUR PART WE WILL WELCOME SUCH A MEASURE. MAKE A LAW ALONG THIS LINE AND THEN ENFORCE IT. IT IS A PERSON'S PRIVILEGE TO BUY JUST THE KIND OF EGGS HE OR SHE MAY WANT. BUT IT IS THEIR RIGHT TO KNOW THAT THEY ARE GETTING WHAT THEY PAY FOR.

SATTERFIELD MAY SEEK REHEARING

did not betray this feeling in his conversation.
"When they offered to bring me to the city I thought they were friends, but it seemed that money tempted them too strongly and so they turned me in," was the remark he made smilingly.

The supreme court March 11 affirmed the judgment of Fulton superior court condemning Satterfield to die on the gallows.

The original date set for the execution has long since expired. Satterfield's appeal to the high court operating as a supersedeas of the sentence. This stay of execution will cease to exist as soon as Judge John D. Humphries, who presided at the trial, receives the supreme court's remittitur, or formal announcement of its decision, which, under the supreme court's rules, must not go down to the court below under 10 days from judgment and affirmance.

Stay Expires Thursday.
This period expires Thursday, and the remittitur would be expected to be in the trial court's hands by Saturday, save for the filing of a motion for rehearing, which must be passed upon before the higher court's decision is handed down. If no motion for a rehearing should be filed, Satterfield probably will be brought before Judge Humphries and a new date fixed for his execution by the last of this week.

The lower court cannot fix a new execution date until it receives the high court's remittitur, and under the law the clerk of the supreme court is only required "to send down the remittitur as soon as practicable after the expiration of 10 days from the judgment of the supreme court, unless otherwise ordered or a motion for rehearing is filed."

Attorney Holloway did not indicate what grounds his motion, if filed, would be based upon. He declared he would be certain such a motion would be filed. The usual grounds set up for rehearings in the supreme court consist of allegations that the high court overlooked in making its original decision, certain other of its decisions, or sections of the code, or parts of the evidence in the case.

If the motion for rehearing is filed, the supreme court will have to pass upon it, which, probably, will be at an early date, though there is no time limit, excepting that the motion would have to be passed upon before the expiration of the present term of court on October 5, 1924. If the motion is not to be filed, Satterfield will, in all probability, be brought before Judge Humphries either Saturday or early next week, when a new date will be set for the execution of the old sentence.

May Be Near April 11.
Under the Georgia law there is no such thing as resentencing a person. Where the date originally fixed for the execution expired without the execution taking place, due to the supersedeas set up by the appeal, the court below has only to fix another date applicable to the original judgment of death.

Not less than 20 days nor more than 60 days from the day the date of execution is fixed by the judge is the legal requirement, so that should Satterfield's execution be fixed again this week, he will probably hang about April 11, should Judge Humphries allow the minimum period only. This requirement applies to dates of execution fixed the first time, and so far as has ever been ruled in Georgia, would apply to any new date of execution necessarily fixed by the trial court.

GRAND JURY ASKS PLEDGES.

Pledges to abide by principles of the fee system, issued by the grand jury for the term of the superior court, had been signed by a number of the candidates, the replies being turned over to Forrest Adair, foreman, he announced Tuesday. Mr. Adair stated that the grand jury would not give out information as to which candidates refused to sign the pledge, the grand jury not desiring to do anything that might influence the vote for or against any candidate.

James L. Beavers, candidate for sheriff; John S. McClelland, candidate for solicitor of the criminal court of Atlanta; Marvin P. Roane, in the race for tax receiver; and E. Harry Goodhart, candidate for tax collector, declared they had signed the pledge, fixing their salaries at $7,500 a year, and agreeing to pay any surplus in fees into the county treasury or deposit it to the county's credit in some designated bank or trust company, pending settlement of the legality of the money going to the county treasury.

Criticizing Mr. Adair for making any public announcement concerning the grand jury's course in the "questionnaire" matter, George F. Longino, Jr., cashier of the Bank of Colquhoun, member of the grand jury and of the committee on fees and salaries, issued a statement Tuesday night in which he declared that the grand jury did not intend to "form the precedent of asking the people or the voters to support any particular candidate."

STATE WILL VOTE PRESIDENTIAL CHOICE

For tax collector, candidates being J. H. Andrews, E. Harry Goodhart, George Mathieson and W. S. Richardson, the incumbent. Two vacancies on the board of county commissioners are also being sought by four men, these being George M. Howe, now a commissioner; I. W. Ragsdale, Claude L. Ashley and Charles W. Wilkins. Charles G. Roberts and Dawson Rogers are opponents for the post of county surveyor.

The following candidates have no opposition: Ordinary, Thomas H. Jeffries; treasurer, Hubert L. Culbertson; coroner, Paul Dunham; Jery

M. Wells, for superintendent of county schools; Judge H. M. Reid, of the city court, and Judge A. E. Calhoun, of the criminal court.

Heavy Registration.

A recent compilation of registration figures showed that 44,464 Fulton county citizens are qualified to cast their ballots today, the largest total registration in the county's history. Basing their opinion on this fact, political followers are forecasting a record vote.

Charles C. Masson, chairman of the county democratic executive committee, Tuesday night announced that the work of preparing for polls and managers and distribution of ballots was the most laborious the committee has ever known.

Upon receipt of tabulated returns from the counties, the sub-committee of the state democratic executive committee will meet on or before April 12 to declare official results in each county.

The state democratic convention will be held April 23, in Atlanta. Delegates in that convention will decide whether Underwood or McAdoo is to be supported by Georgia's 28 delegates in the national convention in New York city in June, under the Georgia county unit rule, the candidate receiving a majority of the votes cast in the county is entitled to name delegates to the state convention from each county.

There would be 412 delegates in the state convention, each county being entitled to twice as many delegates as it has representatives in the lower house of the legislature. Alternate delegates in the same number will be named to serve in the place of appointed delegates who do not attend.

Need Four Recruits.

Only four more recruits are needed to complete the March quota for the local United States Marine corps recruiting office, it was announced Tuesday by Captain Wynn, officer in charge. When these four are obtained the local office, 510 Postoffice building, will not accept any more applicants until April.

the committee was not committing itself on any question nor sponsoring the candidacy of any particular candidate.

"It was mutually understood at the meeting of the grand jury today that no publicity whatever would be given this question, it being my personal opinion, from having heard expressions from individual members of the grand jury, that the public should be left to use their discretion in voting, and that candidates should be voted upon from a standpoint of ability and efficiency, and the question of remuneration should be a matter for the legislative body, the legislature of Georgia, to provide adequate compensation for these various positions or offices."

Longino's Statement.

"I was very much concerned over the appearance of a whole column news item entitled, 'Candidates Quizzed by Grand Jury,' which appeared in an afternoon paper on Tuesday in which, in my opinion, a great injustice was done to certain candidates to be voted upon Wednesday, as well as to what I would say was a large majority of the grand jurors. The foreman of the grand jury asked the committee, of which I am a member, to send out what he termed 'questionnaires' to the different candidates with reference to their positions on the fee or salary system. The chairman of the committee, respecting the request of the foreman, sent out these questionnaires with the distinct understanding that

TRADE EXPERTS START FOR SOUTH

Washington, March 18.—(Special.) Alford P. Dennis is at the head of a delegation of foreign trade experts who leave tomorrow for the south in the interest of expansion of American exports. They will speak to the business men in cooperation with the local chambers of commerce. Mr. Dennis will speak in Atlanta March 21 and remain there for several days in the district office of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce so as to be accessible for business men who want to consult him on questions of foreign trade.

In the meantime Eugene S. Gregg, chief of the transportation division of the bureau, and Jesse M. Adair, acting chief of the lumber division, will visit Savannah March 20, Jacksonville March 21 and Pensacola March 22. Meetings have been arranged at these places by the local chambers of commerce where the trade experts will speak on port problems, transportation questions and foreign trade in timber products.

Mr. Dennis will be joined in Atlanta by Edward T. Pickard, chief of the textile division of the department of commerce; Luther Becker, chief of the iron and steel division, and Mr. Gregg and they will all speak at public meetings March 23 and 25.

The purpose of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce in sending this expert commission through the south is to bring the bureau and business into closer contact, with the promotion of American foreign trade as a primary object. R. C. Giesinger has charge of the Atlanta district office.

Clashed With Interests.

"When I became secretary of the treasury I found that there was a surplus of $150,000,000 in the treasury. I asked some of the big banks how much it was going to cost to move the crops, and not knowing what I had in mind, they said it would take about $150,000,000, and I said I would take the money, and I will move it on myself."

"So I made the announcement without saying anything to Wall street about it. I put the people's money in the banks all over the country, and the banks would pass it on to the farmers and business men at reasonable rates of interest."

Cost Only $37,000.
"The first effort was this: Wall street said I did not have the money in the treasury, but I knew I had because I had counted it and found darn well I had it, and they found out pretty soon I did have it. I sent telegrams to the bankers all over the country and told them to come to Washington. I wanted to consult with them. I wanted to know how much money was needed to move the crops. For two days they held a conference and when they got through they gave me a list of the banks that wanted to get the deposits, and it was about $50,000,000 and $60,000,000. Wall street said it would take $150,000,000. Immediately after that announcement the rate of interest in Wall street fell and they began to compete with the federal reserve system in lending money at reasonable rates of interest throughout the country. It took $37,000,000 to get the crops moving."

by far than the saving of money, not that a creditable accomplishment of the administration of Woodrow Wilson?

Speaks To Home Folks.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 18. William G. McAdoo, candidate for democratic nomination for president made a short address to his old home folks here today, in which again announced that should he be elected that he will see that no Wall Street man is appointed secretary of the treasury and that no man of sinister influence will be allowed to take charge of the federal reserve system.

"Now they say both political parties are alike," said Mr. McAdoo. "They are making the people believe that both of them are alike, and you have to do is to take your choice between a reactionary and Wall street. The two parties are just as different as the two poles. What do we stand for? The great Jefferson phrased it the great Andrew Jackson confirmed and rephrased it—equal opportunity for all and special privilege to none."

"Republicans stand for special privileges for some aliens and equal opportunity to none. Swanney said it is the difference. That is an important difference."

"Now I am going to give you an illustration applicable to that principle. You know that every year prior to 1913 we heard a lot about stringency every year they just milked the farmers; they took the last drop, high rate of interest was charged, he could get money at all."

"They also hid the business men by getting a high rate of interest. Who is responsible for this? Wall street did it all the time."

A poor sample of Niagara Falls

Niagara is one of many attractions and articles that cannot be sampled.

Yet every year the railroads
"sell" Niagara to thousands.

And they do it so well that nearly everybody who hasn't already visited Niagara hopes to go there some day.

Samples are used in selling because people like to see what you want them to buy. You cannot carry around samples of safes, machinery, or pianos, but you can sell them from pictures, just as the railroads "sell" Niagara Falls from pictures.

You cannot afford to distribute by mail samples of watches and other costly articles, but you can "sample" them anywhere on earth with clear, well-printed pictures.

Interesting pictures showing your product in the surroundings that go with it make people stop and read what you write about that product.

You can often sell a homely article with good, well-printed pictures. But many a catalog has failed completely to produce results because of poor pictures.

Use well-printed pictures to "sample" your product where-ever people live who can use it.
When they "see" your product and read about it, they probably will buy it.

Your printer can tell you how to set about making good pictures of what you sell. He knows that they should be printed on good paper; for the better the paper,
the better will be the printing—

Alumni clubs of Georgia Tech and the University of Georgia, to be conducted as a collegiate association, are planning to organize for the purpose of cooperating for the best interests of the two institutions. It was made known Tuesday, following a meeting at which Harold Hirsch was elected permanent chairman and Jack Thies, son, permanent secretary. It was announced that an important meeting of the Georgia Tech alumni would be held in the convention hall of the Piedmont hotel, Monday, March 24, at 8 o'clock. The Georgia alumni will meet on the same date in the chamber of commerce hall. The collegiate organization has for its purpose, it was announced, the betterment of conditions of institutions of higher education throughout the state. Permanent field secretaries will organize similar clubs throughout the state, and will put plans of development before the many clubs of these institutions already organized.

in which Secretary Sleep dealt in 1922, was declared the secretary to be a John Hays Hammond company and not controlled in any way so far as he knew by the Sinclair interests.

OIL STOCK SPECULATIONS OFFER MANY SURPRISES.

The oil committee resumed its hearings in the form of a double-barreled surprise today in the form of fresh evidence of oil stock speculation by government officials and further testimony about the famous $100,000 loan to Albert B. Fall.

Brokers' records submitted by an expert accountant showed that Attorney General Daugherty had dealt in both Sinclair and Doheny stocks since he entered the cabinet; that C. Bascom Slemmons, secretary to President Coolidge, also bought and sold stock before he retired from congress in 1922; and that there were records of dealings also by Senators Curtis, of Kansas; E. R. King, of West Virginia, and a number of representatives.

Price McKinney, of Cleveland, then testified that former Secretary Fall had sought late last year, when the committee was inquiring into Fall's finances, to have McKinney say that he had loaned $100,000 to the former secretary. That was before Fall made the same proposal to E. B. McLean.

The names were disclosed before the senate oil committee today when it called to the stand Louis F. Bond, a federal trade commission accountant who has examined the books of a number of brokerage houses.

Sleep at the time was a member of the house. Other representatives dealing in the stocks included A. B. Rouse, Kentucky; Wells Goodykoonitz, West Virginia; Thomas J. Ryan, of New York; and J. H. Hines, of Ohio.

Daugherty Bought Shares.

Attorney General Daugherty bought 100 shares of Pan-American, the Doheny company, that leased the California reserve, and sold at a profit of $543.50, the accountant said. Mr. Daugherty himself has disclosed previously that he had some dealings in Sinclair stock both before and after he entered the cabinet.

The attorney general's account with W. B. Hibbs & Co., of Washington, was opened in November, 1921, Bond said, in his own name and has been changed to the name of W. W. Spaid, a member of Hibbs & Co.

On October 19, 1922, the attorney general sold 500 shares of Sinclair Consolidated and on October 27 he purchased an equal amount of the same stock, Bond said.

Bond testified that Senator Curtis, who is assistant republican leader of the senate, bought 100 shares of Sinclair Consolidated on February 2, 1922, and that the records indicated it was a "straight purchase."

Senator Elkins bought 8,700 shares of Sinclair Consolidated on November 16, 1922, at a cost of $302,355. He sold 7,700 shares on May 24, 1923, at $272,924 and took a "straight delivery" on the remaining 1,000 shares.

Sleep Also Invested.

Bond told the committee that Sleep bought 100 shares of Mexican Petroleum for "P. W. Sleep" and sold them at a net profit of $381. He then bought on June 28, 1922, 1,000 shares of Mexican Seaboard, another Sinclair company and sold at a profit of $1,481.28.

Representative Ryan, the witness said, dealt in 5,400 shares of Sinclair stock and 700 shares of Doheny stock in 1922 and 1923, and realized a net profit of $8,645.

Representative Rouse, according to Bond's reports, bought 100 shares of Pan American Petroleum at $8,715 and there was no record of any sales.

Representative Goodykoonitz was shown to have made a net profit of $256 in Sinclair Consolidated and Mexican Petroleum.

Representative Hines bought and sold to the extent of 3,500 shares of oil stock, but Bond's report did not show whether there was a loss or gain.

The Sinclair Teapot Dome lease was signed April 7, 1922, and the Doheny California lease December 11, 1922.

Price McKinney, of Cleveland, testified before the oil committee that Albert B. Fall had written him late in 1923 asking him to agree to say he had loaned Fall $100,000.

McKinney said he declined to do so, because he had not made any loan to the former interior secretary.

McKinney said he did not reply to Fall's letter making the request and C. C. Chase, Fall's son-in-law, visited him at Cleveland.

"What did Chase say?" asked Senator Walsh.

"I did most of the talking," the witness said, "I said I had not made the loan and I could not say that I had done so."

McKinney said he had known Fall many years and had some business dealings with him. He added that he was not interested in oil lands.

To Sell to British.

The witness was the stand less than 15 minutes. He was followed by Henry Woodhouse, of New York, who was questioned about his published charge that the Doheny interests had agreed to sell much of the California naval oil reserve output to British interests.

Woodhouse said he had owned one-sixth of the Chester oil concession in Turkey.

He is survived by his widow, three sons, Fred and Sam Jacobs, of Atlanta, and J. Elroy Jacobs, of Grayson, and two daughters, Mrs. W. A. Henderson, of Lawrenceville, and Mrs. A. B. Petty, of Loganville.

and steamship interests, the British Mexican Petroleum company, which under a contract was to have first call on the Doheny oil output both in the United States and Mexico.

Woodhouse was on the stand half an hour and at the conclusion of his statement, the committee adjourned until tomorrow.

Senator Curtis issued a statement late, explaining that he had purchased the Sinclair stock for his daughter, Mrs. Permelia Curtis George, and that it had been delivered to her in July, 1922, under an agreement by which she deposits the dividends in bank to the account of her children.

DAUGHERTY AND FALL
IN TWO NEW CHAPTERS.

Washington, March 18.—Attorney General Daugherty and Albert B. Fall figured separately in two new chapters written today into the record of the oil committee as the senate investigators renewed their long quest for all of the facts connected with the leasing of the naval oil reserves.

One story was that on the day the Sinclair lease of Teapot Dome was announced officially, Mr. Daugherty changed his margin-account in Sinclair Oil stock at a Washington brokerage house from his own name to that of W. W. Spaid, a member of the firm, who then was carrying a large account for Jess W. Smith, personal friend and confidant of the attorney general.

The other chapter had to do with still another apparent attempt by Fall to conceal through the statement of an old friend that he had obtained $100,000 from Edward L. Doheny, California oil magnate, late in 1921 when he enlarged and improved his New Mexico ranch holdings.

Besides the dealings the attorney general had in oil stocks, the committee obtained from its expert accountant, Louis F. Bond, detailed accounts of transaction in oil stocks by two senators, Curtis, of Kansas, assistant republican leader in the senate; Elkins, of West Virginia, and five then members of the house, including C. Bascom Slemmons, now secretary to President Coolidge.

Will Probe Both Stories.

Both the stock transactions and the story of Price McKinney, of Cleveland, Ohio, that Fall sought to have him agree to say he had loaned the former interior secretary money will be pursued by the committee. Members regard McKinney's statement today as one of the most important that has been developed in connection with the oil leases.

Identifying himself as an old friend of Fall, McKinney, a mine owner, testified that late in 1923 he had received a letter from the former secretary "asking me if I would state that I had made the loan for the purchase of the ranches of property bought in New Mexico."

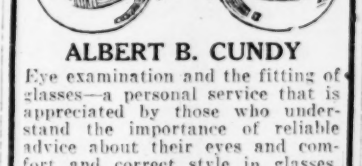

The witness said he had not answered the letter and that Clarence C. Chase, son-in-law of Fall, had called upon him at Cleveland a day or two after Thanksgiving day, which was November 23, to take up the subject.

"I think I did most of the talking," he said, "I only got started, and I said, 'I have not made him a loan, and I could not say that I have.'"

Asked if he had the Fall letter, McKinney said he had destroyed it "when Mr. Doheny testified that he himself had made the loan."

Sought Source of Funds.

At the time Chase visited McKinney, the committee was seeking the source of the funds which Fall evidently had received and the latter was preparing to come to Washington to testify, according to telegrams placed into the record. There is evidence of a conference between Fall and Chase at Chicago early in December, after which the former secured retary went on to New York and then to Atlantic City, where Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, agreed to say that he had loaned Fall $100,000 instead of giving him unused checks aggregating $100,000.

Near the time of his call on McKinney, Chase, for whom a subpoena was issued today, was in communication with J. W. Zevely, personal counsel to Harry F. Sinclair. From Chicago on December 1 he sent to Zevely at Washington this telegram: "Will be delayed in arrival account going to Cleveland from here."

From Washington two days later, Chase wired Fall that he would meet him in Chicago, adding the word: "Important."

On the same day, Fall wired Zevely here that he was preparing to come to Washington to testify and added:

"Chase should have reached Cleveland Sunday night. Are you in touch with him? Notify him."

Zevely on the same day sent a telegram to Chase, who then was en route to Chicago, saying: "Immediately upon arrival in Chicago call me telephone Main 0562."

Greatest Pickpocket Out of Jail—

HE operates in great factories—in mines—in shipyards. He is known and feared throughout the world of industry. He's in your home—hiding behind doors—secreted between walls. You can't feel or see him. But he's always there. His hand is never out of your pocket. Every day he takes your money a little at a time. And in the long run the sum he steals is large.

That pickpocket's name is R-U-S-T.

But he can be foiled. Great industries have found a way. They seal all metal surfaces against him with a protective film of Barrett Everjet Paint.

Protected by this film, exposed metal work will last almost indefinitely. We know that iron contracts in cold weather and expands in warm weather—that it moves within itself. A film coat of Barrett Everjet Paint is elastic—allows for this movement of iron.

In brief, Barrett Everjet Paint is weather-proof and waterproof—offers a high degree of resistance against steam vapors, acids and alkalis. It retains its elasticity under all temperatures. It never cracks, rubs, peels or scales, and it wears stubbornly even when subjected to the most severe usage.

Everjet Paint is used extensively in factories and mines, on railroads and bridges. Metal fencing, exposed pipe, farm implements—every metal surface that rusts needs Everjet Paint.

WATSON IS HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Washington, March 18.—After a preliminary hearing of more than five hours in a crowded little Virginia room, Representative Harold Watson, of Minnesota, and Lelley Hull, a 29-year-old government agent, today were held for the grand jury on grave charges preferred against them by two Arlington county officers.

Judge Harry R. Thomas withheld a writ of habeas corpus for the two men in order to give them opportunity to arrange new bond. Each had held in $2,000 bond for the preliminary hearing, which the court refused to reduce on motion of State Representative Watson.

In addition to Senator Bill Knott, who was represented by Representative Larson and Newton, both of Iowa, and Thomas C. Bradley, a Washington attorney.

Watson and Hull were heard during the night of March 9 on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government. Watson, brother-in-law of a driver of the officer's car, was arrested with him and Harold Watson, father.

The first witness testified that the conditions under which the two men were held, when he and Watson came upon Knott's car parked 150 feet from the main entrance of the Capitol building. He told of "officers" made to say the "officers" were to take the two men taken to jail.

Watson, who was taken to jail, was held in a cell, where he was held for the night of March 9.

"HOME BEAUTIFUL," EXHIBIT IS CALLED

April 6, as the "Home Beautiful" exhibit, so that one will not take from the glory of the other, and the public will know that two distinctly better homes weeks will be held in Atlanta, one in March to be followed by another in May, but conducted under different auspices.

The Constitution and the merchants cooperating in the Home Beautiful exhibit are heart and soul back of both movements, the main purpose being to educate the people to the desire for better homes, by the careful planning, thoughtful selection and harmony of the furnishings and decorations in the home.

The "Home Beautiful" exhibit is fast assuming an appearance of reality. Each house has been newly papered, the background will insure perfect harmony in the color scheme in each room. Draperies and rugs have been selected which will emphasize the pleasing color feature of each room. Furniture most appropriate for each room is ready for delivery, and during the next few days will be placed in the rooms in the different houses, all will be ready to add the finishing touches of decoration.

Homes to Have Personal Touches. One of the most pleasing things about the "Home Beautiful" exhibit is that each of the three houses will have all the personal touches that make the home livable. They will be liberally supplied with books, that an air of culture will pervade each home. Music is another feature which will be demonstrated, by having the instruments in actual operation. Vases of every description will be kept filled with fresh flowers by the florists of Atlanta. Pictures will be hung on the walls, helping to emphasize the personality of each room.

The thing that will impress the public most is that this demonstration is practical, and that the furnishings selected are within the means of the family of limited income, and no attempt at extravagance will be exhibited.

PROBERS SUMMON CABINET OFFICERS

Mr. Means has testified that he received $100,000 for Jess Smith. Along with the two members of the cabinet, the committee subpoenaed several other officials and former officials of high rank. They included Prohibition Commissioner Haynes; Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair; Elmer Dyer, former assistant secretary of the treasury; Assistant Attorney General John W. H. Crim and Henry W. Anderson; H. H. Votaw, prison commissioner and brother-in-law of the late President Harding; and James A. Finch, pardon attorney in the justice department.

Tonight committee members were considering how they might be able to bring Mannington before them. He is understood to be in Paris, connected in some capacity with Charles G. Dawes, and it is possible the state department may be asked to help in summoning him to Washington.

In addition, Secretary Hughes and Postmaster General New, who have issued statements about their presence at the home here of Edward B. McLean when the prize fight pictures were shown there, may be asked to come before the committee to explain conflicting stories as to just who made up the company entertained that night by the publisher.

Daugherty's Attack. Mr. Daugherty's attack on his accusers tonight took the form of a long statement, in which he reviewed the activities of his department and declared that he had been produced before the committee hearing on the department's efficiency.

"The testimony as revealed in the hearings," he said, "has consisted of rumors, gossip and unreliable hearsay evidence emanating from tainted sources."

The statement made no reference to any of the specific points touched on in the testimony or to Mannington, whose inclusion into the story told today by Orr whetted the curiosity of committee members and opened up new questions which some senators believe they prove very fruitful.

Mannington's Record. A friend of Mr. Daugherty of long standing, Mannington served in the campaign headquarters of Marion during the 1920 campaign and after the inauguration in the following March came to Washington. Orr said he had been introduced to him by Daugherty, and had learned that his headquarters appeared to be in the "little green house on K street." Orr went on to say that he had arranged with persons who had been given by Mannington in New York and Brooklyn to avail themselves of Mannington's services to "avoid litigation" in relation to liquor matters. Orr said he could not recall the amount of money he turned over to Mannington in these transactions, after repeated questioning he fixed the total at least $10,000. He insisted under the pressure of further inquiries that he had kept none of it for himself.

The primary purpose of the committee in summoning Orr, who formerly was secretary to Governor Whitman of New York, was to learn more about the prize fight picture deal. On this subject, however, he gave little new information, beyond confirming that he had an interest in the project and that his share of 20 per cent netted him $4,000. He de-

With the department of justice, Mr. Weeks may also be asked about the Standard Aircraft case, in which Gaston Means told of receiving $100,000 for Jess Smith.

Commenting today on the subpoena served on him Secretary Weeks said he assumed it was the committee's intention to ask him about the government's contract in the aircraft case.

Crim Is Wanted. Former Assistant Attorney General Crim, who is in charge of the veterans' bureau graft cases, is to be asked about the fight film affair and many other criminal cases touched upon in the investigation. Mr. Votaw and Mr. Finch are to be questioned in connection with the "little green house" relative to alleged efforts of Jess Smith to secure a pardon for a relative of Joe Weber, the actor.

Daugherty's Statement. In his statement, Attorney General Daugherty declared that while the senate committee investigating his department is engaged with "rumors, gossip and unreliable hearsay evidence emanating from tainted sources," the "legitimate work of the government goes on" and his "time and energy is directed to its accomplishment."

"The constantly increasing amount of business which the department of justice is compelled to take care of," Mr. Daugherty said, "makes it impossible for the attorney general to give much personal attention to the various investigations now being conducted by congressional committees. In addition to directing the policy of the many matters, both large and small, being handled by his associates in the department, he is compelled to act personally upon each one of the opinions requested of the attorney general by the president and the heads of executive departments. These opinions involve questions of national policy and frequently result in litigation which terminates only after a decision by the supreme court of the United States."

"Has Nothing To Fear." The attorney general said tonight that while he is tremendously interested in the outcome of the hearing of the special committee investigating the department of justice, "he has nothing to fear from a searching inquiry into every activity within the department. Its business is promptly disposed of, and the men and women now engaged in its service are co-operating most efficiently and successfully in disposing of the tremendous problems committed to their care, with the sole thought of discharging their full duty in protecting the rights of the public without fear or favor."

"So far the investigation of the department of justice has not dealt with the efficiency of the department of justice. The testimony as revealed in the hearings has consisted of rumors, gossip and unreliable hearsay evidence emanating from tainted sources such as discredited and discredited agents, some of whom are under indictment for misconduct in connection with their official duties, and others who have no reputable standing in the communities where they live."

"Meanwhile the legitimate work of the government goes on, and the attorney general's time and energy is directed to its accomplishment."

Two brothers were exchanging compliments, as brothers with, regarding their respective fight friends. "I hope you're not suffering from any hallucination that your fight is a raving beauty," sneered the elder. "I sure am," replied the younger Petershy, "and I'm going to continue to hug my illusion!"—Fama Life.

More testimony regarding liquor cases is expected from Prohibition Commissioner Haynes. Secretary Mellon also may be quizzed on this line. Gaston Means having testified that Mellon once "slipped through" his fingers, leaving him "caught" in a liquor investigation.

Secretaries Weeks and Mellon, committee members said, were to be asked primarily about their method of exchanging confidential information.

Payment Schedule Provided Under Soldier Bonus Plan

Washington, March 18.—The soldier bonus bill passed today by the house provides for the following payments:

Exclusive of the first 60 days of service each enlisted man and woman and officer up to and including the rank of captain in the army and machine corps and lieutenant senior grade in the navy is entitled to a credit of $1 for each day of home service and $1.25 for each day of overseas service. If all service was at home, $500 is the maximum allowed, and if part was overseas, $625 is the maximum.

Those not entitled to more than $50 would be paid in cash and to others an insurance policy would be issued. The amount of this policy is figured on the total of adjusted compensation due on length of service, plus one-fourth of that total.

The value of the insurance policy may then be computed by multiplying total compensation by the proper factor shown in the accompanying table prepared by the veterans' bureau. The age of the veteran at the nearest birthday to the date at which the certificate is issued should be used. The policies would be dated January 1, 1925, under terms of the bill.

Thus, a veteran who is 32 years old

McCord's Bulletin

Leading Men Comment On Atlanta's Needs

Our bulletin headed "Wanted, Ten Thousand Men to Keep Atlanta Going" has put many people to thinking. Here are some comments:

J. Carroll Payne: What we need is more people, not more buildings, and these people with occupations.

F. J. Paxson: I am very grateful that the thinking men of Atlanta are giving earnest consideration to real constructive work.

Mell R. Wilkinson: The subject of local taxes we considered of such interest that it has been selected as the subject matter of the next meeting of the President's Club.

Ivan E. Allen: I fear that the constant pirating of taxes is going to ruin Atlanta and force our money men to invest in tax free securities. Trading in real estate has been one of Atlanta's most profitable businesses.

J. H. Ewing: What we need is to campaign in a sound way for additional factories, and quit advertising that the city can't finish the Girls' High School.

W. J. Blalock: It is undoubtedly time for the taxpayers of Atlanta to get together and see that we get a business administration in the City Hall.

W. H. White, Jr.: I think Atlanta should appoint a commission or a committee of business men to advise with the officials in regard to tax matters.

Thomas K. Glenn: I have been in Atlanta since 1888, and have watched its growth with interest and pride. During all this time I have thought that real estate was too high, yet it increases in value from year to year, which shows that my judgment was wrong.

J. R. Bachman: The opportunity for service should be the guide when we set metes and bounds for the safe and conservative development of a city, and by that measure we can justify a much larger city here than we have as yet planned for.

W. B. Esker: Some of our people have an idea that we should build a great deal more than we have up to the present time, particularly those who are in charge of certain departments of our various governments. Society is being protected by the travel along evenly, and as wealth is created spend accordingly.

Cator Woolford: My suggestion would be for us to do more to develop our manpower in Georgia; take the graduates from our schools and colleges and place them in our business and see that they are given an opportunity to develop. What we need in Georgia is more man-power and ability.

Reuben R. Arnold: The taxpayers of Atlanta have a very serious problem before them in the excessive assessments and in the proposition to raise the existing rate and furthermore in the proposition to give the Atlanta School Board the right to levy a tax of 1 1/2% outside of the regulation city tax. If these propositions are enacted into law, I do not see how the taxpayers of the city can stand the drain.

Robert C. Alston: I am inclined to think that the extreme increase in tax levy in Atlanta and the discussion of the increase in tax rate in addition to the increase in assessment is very likely to set this city back, for certainly the tax problem has gotten to be genuinely an overshadowing one.

Edgar Watkins: Your bulletin shows that our tax burdens are heavy and growing heavier. The only remedy that I see for this condition, so far as local taxes are concerned, is a more efficient and more concentrated government with a less number of governments. Specifically, I think that the city and county governments should be consolidated and that a city manager form of government should be adopted.

Struck down in front of his home by an automobile driven by S. F. Schlessinger, head of the Atlanta Jimmy Bus association, 6-year-old Jack Rosenbaum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Rosenbaum, of 303 Washington street, is in Grady hospital suffering from a fractured skull, according to police headquarters. At the request of the child's parents no case was made against Schlessinger, who placed the injured boy in his car and rushed him to Grady hospital.

Police investigation revealed that Schlessinger was driving on Washington street when young Rosenbaum suddenly ran from the sidewalk directly in the path of his machine. Before he could bring the car to a halt the boy had been struck to the ground.

Physicians at Grady stated that in addition to a fractured skull the boy was seriously lacerated about the legs and body.

Investigation was made by Call Officers E. L. Arthur and Henry Donohue.

McAdoo Headquarters Sure Of Sweeping Victory Today

Miller S. Bell, manager of the McAdoo state campaign headquarters, gave out the following statement Tuesday night:

"A week ago we predicted that Mr. McAdoo would carry Georgia by a majority of more than two to one of the county unit votes. We now predict that his majority very probably will go as high as three to one."

"We have today received authentic and uncolored reports that McAdoo will carry 20 counties which we had heretofore classified either in the doubtful column or in the Underwood column. These counties have an aggregate of fifty county unit votes. They are Chatham, Bibb, Laurens, Morgan, Evans, Screven, Atkinson, Jackson, Emanuel, Bulloch, Treutlen, Jenkins, Johnson and Taliaferro."

"There is every indication of a McAdoo landslide all over the state. The prevailing public opinion is that he will score a sweeping victory. 'Without disparaging the splendid work done by his supporters, much of the credit for his victory should go to McAdoo himself. On his homecoming visit to his native state he was given a continuous ovation wherever he went. In Georgia history there has never been a greater demonstration of the people's faith and confidence in a high official. More than twenty-five thousand people saw and heard him. He made a splendid impression both in his speeches and personal contacts."

Scores Opposition.

"We have conducted in behalf of Mr. McAdoo a clean campaign in a spirit with the dignity of the high office of president. We regret that managers for Senator Underwood have resorted to methods unworthy of their candidate, and this also has been a powerful factor in Mr. McAdoo's favor. One of their discarded

TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment Is Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets That Are Nauseless, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds, coughs, sore throat and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the nauseless calomel tablets called Calotabs, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and colds and is one of the most important factors in enabling the attack and ward off pneumonia.

One or two Calotabs at bedtime, with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Genuine Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package; ten cents for the small, vest-pocket size.—(adv.)

other states, stating that Senator Oscar W. Underwood will carry Georgia by at least 246 county unit votes, a majority of over 70 units, even if every doubtful county goes for McAdoo. Mr. Gordon's message is: "A landslide of every county in Georgia reported to headquarters today, discloses the fact that Mr. Underwood will have at least 246 county unit votes, a majority of over 70. This is reached by giving to Mr. McAdoo every doubtful county, although conviction is that of the 36 doubtful counties Underwood will carry 20. The sentiment of the people is now strongly headed in our direction and it may be that Underwood will have a landslide. Mr. McAdoo's visit to Georgia has reacted against his candidacy, as he failed to discuss the one issue which they desired to hear him upon."

Battle Is Won.

"The fight is over, the battle is won, and Georgia goes to Oscar W. Underwood in a magnificent and gratifying showing. In every respect Georgia has followed the result in Alabama. Next comes Tennessee and Texas, both of which states have advised that their delegations will line right up with these sister states. It is the real turning point in the campaign, and in my heart I believe this insures Senator Underwood's nomination by the democracy of the nation. And his nomination means he will be our next president, for the democratic party this year is going to pile up such a landslide vote in the fall election that it will stand for time to come as a new page in national political history."

CHAINS*The "Chainless Holyoke Cord" Is An Absolute Non-Skid Tire

"Non-Skid" is more or less synonymous with tires of all kinds, but the term has been only a mildly comparative one, differentiating the treaded tire from that of the smooth surface. The "Chainless Cord" is a tire which differs in material and results from that of any tire made today. A fabric abrasive is used for the tread instead of rubber, which makes possible the gripping and holding to the road. As the tread wears, the abrasive quality is not impaired and the tire remains a "Chainless Cord" until it is worn through and is useless.

What the "Abrasive Tread" Will Do*Eliminate Skidding

The firm grip of the abrasive tread prevents skidding even on the wet or icy pavements.

Quick Stop

All tests have shown the abrasive tread to be superior to chains in coming to a quick stop.

Easier Turning

Because of the grip of the abrasive tread the wheels turn true.

Car Tracks

No catching and skidding in car tracks. The abrasive tread prevents this.

Perfect Control

No skidding, side sway, sliding, shimmying, loss or power or other evils gives you perfect control. You can stop quicker, start quicker, have more power.

Better Traction

The perfect grip of the abrasive tread does not slip, therefore it gives you better traction.

More Power on Hills

The abrasive tread grip does not waste your engine power on the hills. You get every ounce of the power.

Better Steering

The perfect grip of the abrasive tread on all four wheels makes steering easier and better.

No Side Slip or Sway

The common side slip or sway of your car is eliminated if you use the abrasive tread.

Eliminates Shimmying

The abrasive tread prevents the shimmying of front wheels because of its road grip.

Chief Beavers has beaten the fee system. If all the voters registered should vote on Wednesday the fee system would be ended by a land-slide majority.

Remember the supporters of the Court House ring are going to vote whether it rains or shines and the only question left is whether the voters who want good government are going to the polls and vote.

Vote and vote early and take interest enough in your government to make sure you nullify the vote of some man willing to continue the fee system for four more years.

Vote early for Chief Beavers and END THE FEE SYSTEM NOW.

CONFIRM WILBUR FOR NAVAL POST

Washington, March 18.—The senate late Tuesday confirmed the nomination of Judge Curtis Dwight Wilbur, of California, to be secretary of the navy.

Following the action of the senate, President Coolidge telegraphed Wilbur at San Francisco, congratulating him upon his confirmation and adding that he expected to see him here soon. The new secretary of the navy will be here within a week, it is expected.

When Judge Wilbur recently conferred with Coolidge here, the president questioned him regarding possible oil holdings and was informed that he had none.

HARRIS MEASURE CHANGING CENSUS OF COTTON PASSED

Last Day Rummage---All Remnants---All Odds and Ends

---Farewell old store! Just eight and one-half HOURS more---and the time-scarred Whitehall Street doors of Rich's close forever.

---Every person within reach of Rich's stands this morning face to face with the pertinent and personal questions: "What apparel do I need for spring and summer? What furniture, rugs and draperies are needed for my home? Shall I get them NOW---today---while I can save 10 to 50 per cent---at Rich's?"

---This is for you---and YOU only---to decide. But for your own best interests, think and ACT NOW---today---before it is too late!

Today Only!

McEachern-Manley Marriage Is Brilliant Church Ceremony

Unusual brilliance and splendor marked the marriage of Miss Lola Christine McEachern and Doughty Rankin Manley Tuesday evening at St. Mark's Methodist church.

This impressive ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. Lake Johnson in the presence of a fashionable assemblage of Atlanta society.

Handsome Decorations

The handsome church lent itself to the elaborate decoration for the occasion. The side walls, with their brilliantly stained windows, were adorned with ropes of southern smilax and hanked with Woodwardia ferns. Extending from one side light to the other were garlands of smilax, the lights being topped with clusters of white hyacinths tied with wide white satin ribbon. Reaching the entire length of either aisle of the church were two rows of tall seven-branched candelabra with bunches of Easter lilies tied at the base of each. Reaching the four corners of the church were groups of palms and potted plants. Stately green palms, Woodwardia ferns and other dark green foliage were massed in the pulpits and formed a rich background for the tall white standards filled with Easter lilies placed around the greenery. Heavy white satin overlaid the altar with ropes of greenhouse smilax gracefully draped over it. Large urns holding Easter lilies stood on either side of the altar. Standing guard at the two entrances to the pulpit were tall white columns crowned with huge domes of frosted glass. Surrounding the dome were clusters of white hyacinths falling in shower effect to the end of the columns. Magnificent palms and ferns banked the choir loft above the pulpit, while seven-branched candelabra holding white tapers shone out from among the foliage and cast a soft gleam over the beautiful scene.

Wedding Attendants

First to descend the long floral aisle were the ushers, Baxter Maddox, Dean Campbell, Elynn Tomlinson, Marion Kiser, Richard Sawtell, Hugh Bancker and A. Ten Eyck Brown.

The groomsmen included Donald Owens, Newton McEachern, Jr., Campbell, Elynn Tomlinson, Marion Kiser, Richard Sawtell, Hugh Bancker and A. Ten Eyck Brown.

The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Malone, Mrs. J. M. McCullough, Jr., and Miss Mary Malone.

Dinner-Dance At Capital City Club Thursday Evening

An unusually interesting social event will be the dinner-dance given at the Capital City club Thursday evening, March 20.

Rolle's Rainbow orchestra will furnish a program of late dance music during the evening.

Dinner will be served at 8 o'clock and a program of late dance music from attractively decorated tables placed around the ball room and in the salon. Dancing will continue till 1 o'clock.

Many reservations have been made and a large number of the members of the club and their friends will be present.

Among those who have made reservations are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Butters, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stapler, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bridges, John L. Cody and Dr. B. M. Kline.

20th Century Coterie To Have Meeting.

The Twentieth Century Coterie will meet Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. S. W. McCullough, 295 East Fourth street.

To Take Part in Operalogue

Mrs. Elizabeth Alford Wall, prominent Atlanta musician, who will take a leading part in "Fedora," the operalogue to be given this afternoon, at the Atlanta Woman's club.

from the intermediate class of Miss Anna Mae Farmer, held in Wesley hall Friday evening, was a very interesting affair. At this recital Miss Orle Lee Holt and Sam Hughes graduated from the intermediate class to the advanced, and will play with them in the May recital.

Special mention should be made of the work of Miss Amanda Sneed, who played with clearness, expression and rhythm three third grade solos after only nine months study of piano. Little Miss Dorothy Ramage showed unusual ability in her five numbers which she gave with intelligent interpretation and beautiful color. Miss Farmer was assisted by Miss Kate Koch, violinist.

Council and Temple To Give Cabaret.

The cabaret to be given Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Standard club by the joint membership of the Council of Jewish Women and Temple Sisterhood promises to be a great success. All friends are urged to attend, the admission being only 50 cents. A light supper will be served before the performance. Only a nominal charge will be made. The Council of Jewish Women and the Temple Sisterhood also have this feature in charge.

Mrs. Frances King Will Be Honored At Club Luncheon

Mrs. Frances King, of Alma, Mich., noted floriculturist, author and lecturer, will be honor guest at the buffet luncheon given Thursday at 1:30 o'clock at the Druid Hills Golf club, by the members of the Peachtree Garden club.

Mrs. Vezey Rainwater is chairman of reservation. The luncheon will be a subscription one, and Mrs. Rainwater requests that the members of the club notify her today so as to make reservation for this interesting social event.

Mrs. King will give a most interesting and valuable talk Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Atlanta Woman's club auditorium, on the culture of flowers. A part of Mrs. King's talk will deal with the artistry of the garden in the blending of the colors of the blossoms with the shrubbery and foliage. An interesting feature of the program will be the exhibit of photographs of Mrs. King's own gardens at her home in Michigan, which are said to be among the most beautiful flower gardens in the United States.

She is vice president of the Garden Club of America, and is president of the Women's National Farm and Garden association. Her creative ability as an artist demonstrated in the arrangement of exquisite effects in the garden has received recognition by the Garden club, of London, of which organization she is an honorary member, and other continental plant societies.

Women Voters Give Luncheon.

Four candidates for the office of county commissioner were the guests and speakers at the luncheon given by the Atlanta League of Women Voters at the Penock Cafe, on Tuesday at 12:30 o'clock. George Hope, Charles Wilkins, L. N. Ragsdale and Claude Ashley were invited, and all were present with the exception of Mr. Ashley.

Following luncheon, Mrs. Sanford Gay, president of the league, introduced the speakers in alphabetical order. Each gave his stand upon the fee and salary systems in interesting talks.

Mrs. Gay, who presided at the luncheon, exhibited the beautiful silver loving cups, one large and one small, which will be given as prizes in the membership drive which the league is putting on.

About 30 people were present at this luncheon, which is the last of the series at which the candidates will speak. The luncheons will be continued, with an interesting speaker provided for the occasion. Mrs. W. A. Arnold, efficient chairman of the arrangements, announces that reservations, which are 75 cents a plate, may be made by calling her at Ivy 6519.

The League of Women Voters, noting on these luncheons as an educational attraction, felt that during the pre-election days, nothing could be more valuable to the interested Atlanta women than a chance to meet the candidates for office and hear them speak. Elections once over, the candidates, elected or defeated, will feature the luncheons, but other speakers, talking on subjects near to the interests of Atlanta, will be present, and it is believed that the manifest interest in these luncheons will increase.

Club Meeting Is Postponed.

The regular meeting of the Ansley Park Mothers' club, usually held on the third Wednesday of every month at the Misses Van Hook's studio, 52 Inman circle, will be postponed till the third Wednesday in April, because of illness in the homes of the hostesses, Mrs. L. O. Turner, Mrs. J. W. Quillian and Mrs. Howard See.

Dr. and Mrs. Newton To Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. C. Newton, retired missionaries from Japan, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary at a reception this afternoon from 4 until 7 o'clock at the home of their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. Marvin Underwood, on Avery drive.

Receiving with Dr. and Mrs. Newton will be Mr. and Mrs. Underwood and Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Underwood. Assisting in entertaining will be Mrs. John S. Candler, Mrs. E. L. Pomroy, Mrs. Hal Street, Mrs. C. L. Major, Mrs. Peyton Greene, Mrs. W. F. Dunbar, Mrs. Charles Loridan, Mrs. Joel Hunter and Mrs. F. L. Willis.

Among the out-of-town guests will be Mrs. Cox, of Greenville, S. C.; Mrs. Richard Hester, of Easley, S. C.; and her daughter, Mrs. D. W. Thompson, and Miss Sarah Moss, of Athens, Ga.

Dr. and Mrs. Newton have received scores of telegrams and cablegrams, as well as countless letters, from their friends in various parts of the United States.

Dr. Newton was president of the Methodist Episcopal church, and ranks as one of the most prominent distinguished and popular men, with educational and missionary work. Mrs. Newton was for Miss Lettie Lay, of South Carolina, a member of the south's most exclusive families. Their home in Japan was the mecca for Americans were residing and traveling in Japan.

Cecilian Club

To Give Play.

Of interest to a wide circle of friends is the announcement of the spring play of the Cecilians, popular dramatic organization of the North Avenue Presbyterian church. The play this spring will be "Belinda," a charming comedy-drama, from the pen of A. A. Milne. The Cecilians have met with such wonderful success in each production, which they have staged, that their friends and admirers form a large host and a full attendance is expected.

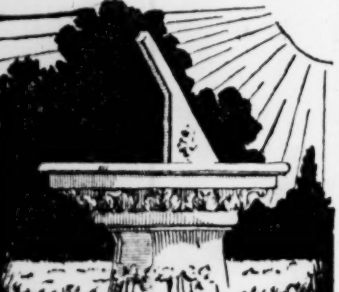

The school, as a whole, has supported this organization with such zeal that this feature has been a deciding factor in the former success of the Cecilians.

The play will be given at the Atlanta Woman's club on Friday evening, March 21, at 8:30 o'clock. Admission will be 75 cents and 50 cents. Tickets on sale at Phillips & Crew Piano company.

Girl Scout Regional Director Talks on Camp Juliette Low

Miss Dorris S. Hough, regional director of the Girl Scouts of America, who, from her headquarters in Atlanta, directs the work in her region which embraces Georgia, Florida, North and South Carolina.

Summer being not far off it behooves one to think of camps, and in thinking of camps it is impossible to overlook one of the most delightful of places—Camp Juliette Low, at Clondland, Ga. This is the Sixth National Training camp of the Girl Scouts of America, and it is a beautiful place.

Camping and plans for new camps are intensive with scouts just now. Miss Dorris Hough, in reference to Camp Juliette Low, Miss Hough is in Atlanta for a few days, having arrived Monday from an extended tour of her region. Miss Hough is regional director of the Girl Scouts, her region including Georgia, Florida, North and South Carolina. She will leave here for North Carolina on Thursday.

"I am more delighted," said Miss Hough, "with the progress that scouting is making in my region. Especially camping work among the scouts is now intensive, as I have said. But scouting is growing in leaps and bounds. New troops are being organized—new camps are being planned by local councils and facts fairly tumbled over each other in the attempt to tell her interviewer all the important things that are developing in her region.

"I find Georgia is best organized," she said. "Georgia has more scouts, having 1,700 or 1,800 scouts out of 2,000 in the entire region. But scouting is universally improving. The camps are springing up overnight."

In reference to camping plans under way, Miss Hough said: "Camp Juliette Low, which is a combination scout camp and training school for leaders, is situated at Clondland, Ga., and is the Sixth National Training camp. It is, of course, very wonderful. It opens June 28 and closes August 28. Camp Juliette Low does not take the place of the local camps. It isn't the same kind of camp exactly, on account of the additional feature of the training school. The camp has a capacity of about 100."

"Further details of the camp," continued Miss Hough, "will be furnished later."

Miss Hough also stressed as one of the important things in scout news the joint course of training for leaders which is to be given at Mercer in June. "The national headquarters, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, and Girl Reserves are providing each an instructor," said Miss Hough. "They will work together on points in common, and of course each will be able to give the particular points in connection with her particular organization."

It is with regret that Atlanta scouts and Atlanta public sees Miss Hough leave so soon, but being a regional director means considerable moving

Agnes Scott Club To Hold Carnival On Friday, May 9

Friday, May 9, will be the date of an elaborate spring carnival to be given by the Agnes Scott Club of Atlanta, according to plans formulated at a meeting of the club held yesterday at the home of Mrs. George H. Noble, Jr., on Andrews drive.

The carnival, which is an annual event, will be held this year as last on the spacious grounds of Mrs. Clyde Kings' residence in Druid Hills and will include a program designed especially for the entertainment of children.

Revision of the constitution of the club was found advisable on account of the large growth in membership and the necessary changes were made at Tuesday's meeting.

Miss Catherine DuBoise, the president, announced that the club is open to all Agnes Scott alumnae in Atlanta, and urged those not now members to communicate with the club secretary, Miss Mary Knight, at 104 Linwood place.

Miss Betty Gregg To Be Complimented.

An interesting event of today will be the children's party at which Mrs. Robert Gregg will entertain at the Druid Hills Golf club in compliment to her little daughter, Betty.

An attractive program will be the feature of the afternoon, followed by unique games where exquisite favors and souvenirs will be presented each little guest.

The program includes a number by the dancing class of which the honor guest is a member. This will be led by little Miss Jean Lee, and those taking part will be Misses Nell Freeman, Beverly Rogers, Laura Maddox, Julia Hoyt, Catherine Henry and Betty Gregg.

The "Bambolina Babies" will be danced by little Miss Caroline McCarter.

Linda Miller will recite "The Big Brown Bear" and "The Three Little Chestnuts." Miss Peggy Ulrich will recite "The Gingham Doll and Calico Cat" and "No One Ever Marries Me."

Maryland Visitor Is Honor Guest.

Miss Frances Brown complimented Miss Martha West, of Baltimore, the guest of Miss Dorothy Popham, with a bridge-tee Tuesday afternoon at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Walter Harlan.

The attractive color scheme of rose and yellow featured the decorations throughout the reception apartments. The tea table had a lace cloth and placed in the center was a low bowl of rose carnations and tulips. The candles were a soft shade of yellow.

The bridge prizes were a bottle of French perfume and a box of handkerchiefs.

Miss West was presented with a hair ornament.

The guests numbered sixteen friends of the hostess.

Mrs. Hancock To Lecture.

The subject of the lecture on astrology to be given by Mrs. Marie Louise Hancock will be "The Influence and the Relation of Planets." The lecture is free and will be given on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at 213 Grand Theater building. All students and the public are invited.

All who are interested in astrology are invited to attend the lecture to be given on Monday afternoon, March 24, also. This lecture has been planned to meet the demands of those who find it impossible to attend the evening lectures.

Why Is It?

WHY is there more argument about coffee than any other item of diet. Coffee has always needed defense—one of the few articles of diet that does.

No doubt exists about the fact that coffee contains caffeine, a drug which doctors prescribe as an emergency stimulant for the heart and nervous system; and many coffee drinkers know from experience that for them, coffee causes nervousness, headache or stomach trouble.

Since so many people, including health authorities, have reason to question coffee drinking, can you afford to risk your health with it—when you can have a safe mealtime drink, such as Postum?

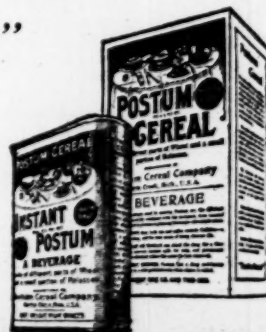

You will like the delicious flavor of Postum. It fills every requirement of a hot drink; and many former coffee drinkers even prefer it to the best coffee.

With Postum as your mealtime beverage, your system free of caffeine, and your sleep sound and restful, you'll realize that Postum has established its genuine value in health and comfort.

Postum for Health

"There's a Reason"

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer the flavor brought out by boiling fully 20 minutes. The cost of either form is about one-half cent a cup.

Silver candlesticks held green candles. The minis were also in green and white.

Mrs. Teachout received her guests wearing flesh-colored georgette crepe, and Mrs. Hagler was gown in an orchid-colored taffeta combined with lace.

About one hundred guests were entertained during the afternoon.

Founder and Patriots Will Meet Friday.

The Daughters of Founders and Patriots of America will meet with Mrs. J. K. Orr, 933 Peachtree street, on Friday, March 21, at 12:30 o'clock. Executive board meeting at 12 o'clock.

Hill P-T-A Meeting Is Postponed.

The regular monthly meeting of the Hill Street P-T-A. will be postponed until a later date. Another "daddy" meeting is being planned by the program committee under the care of efficient chairman, Miss Willie C. The date will be announced.

An L & N Train 530 Miles Long

The distance, "as the crow flies," from Cincinnati to Montgomery is about 500 miles. If all the rolling stock equipment of the L. & N.—62,000 freight cars, 1,330 locomotives, 880 passenger cars, 724 cabooses and various units of work equipment—were coupled together they would form a solid train 530 miles long.

Try to visualize this huge train. Walking at the normal pace of 25 miles a day, it would require over 21 days for a man to travel from one end of it to the other.

Think of the tremendous money investment this equipment represents—about $115,000,000. Imagine the expenditure required to maintain and operate this equipment scattered all over the 5,000 miles of the L. & N. system, and to keep the roadway and tracks in good and safe condition—about $110,000,000 per year.

Let this picture help to keep clear and fresh in your mind the importance of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad to the South—serving the people of 13 states; paying $75,000,000 annually in wages to 52,000 employees; fostering industries of farm and factory and contributing to state, civic and educational institutions through the payment of over $6,000,000 in taxes. Preserve these thoughts in your memory and you will be able to appreciate more fully the individual as well as the public benefits that come from the undisturbed operation of this great transportation system.

Registration List

In the event of my election to be your Tax Collector, I guarantee to install a system whereby each duly qualified voter will be ALLOWED to vote. There have been many inaccuracies and omissions in the past, and even a casual examination of the PRESENT Registration List will disclose a multitude of inaccuracies. There are innumerable instances of duplications and triplications, demonstrating carelessness and inefficiency in compiling the present list, which errors I will avoid.

Salary System

I have clearly, definitely and specifically stated that I invite a change to the salary system; that I have faith in the people and will cheerfully subscribe to any legal enactment for compensating those of us who will render service to the people in the Tax Collector's office. The fact that I have heretofore served on a salary basis is evidence of my disposition in the matter.

General Efficiency

I am profoundly grateful to the present members of the County Commission, and to every former member under whom I have served, ALL of whom have given their whole-hearted endorsement to my ability and which they very generously say is proof that I will properly serve the people as Tax Collector.

Every man I have served under is supporting me in my race; every man who has SERVED UNDER me is supporting me in my race. I am no less appreciative of the confidence and support of my subordinates than I am of those who are now and have been my superior officers.

I have associated with me a group of capable, clean-cut, intelligent citizens, who will not only serve you efficiently, but courteously and promptly. My associates are as follows:

C. M. (MOSE) HOLLAND, Chief Deputy.
Claude Nealy
Chas. B. Gramling
Cann B. Cannon
Miss Marie Parker
Hubert K. Cowan
E. E. Pomeroy (Attorney)
A. M. (Lonnie) Smith
Geo. I. Simons
Millard H. Bevil
Rhodes H. Shepard

I am going to ballot on Wednesday confident of election, but I earnestly urge continuous activity on the part of my friends until the last ballot is cast on election night. My appreciation is deep and sincere.

I came for a big ball, daddy," and the little Paul eagerly—"it's a ball, somewhere by the big rock 'ere sitting on."

Daniel arose hastily, saying, somewhat mystified: "You've lost your ball, sonny—how did it get away?"

"A big, ugly man hid it there," declared the little fellow anxiously. "A man took it away from a mite like me, and hid it!"

"Just sit down on the ground here, and I'll look for it for you in case we don't find it, you're going to have a finer, bigger ball—don't look worried, sonny."

"I've got it! Get that un!" declared the little Paul. "I know where to find it and I don't, daddy."

Smiling, Daniel arose from the ground. It pleased him to humor the little fellow. He paced up and down. Meanwhile the boy began a vigorous search and the rock.

"Better not waste any more time, I don't see it there," he called to the little Paul, at length. But, at that moment, the urchin, with a cry of delight, espied the object of his search.

"Found it, eh?" said Daniel laughingly, as he saw the ball dragging at a long, thin black ball, which had been buried in the sand, directly beneath his feet—where he had been sitting.

Weslow knit his brows together anxiously; he was wondering how a grown-up could find it in his heart to let a little boy find it, because of his superior strength, and bury it where he would never be able to find it.

He would have liked to have found the fellow soundly, for thus meeting a child. He was rather used at the boy's pluck in determining to recover it unaided.

"Sonny," he called, "come here, I want to talk to you." To his amusement, the boy left the ball lying where it was, and came running to him.

"Yes, daddy," he said, looking up at Daniel's face with a happy smile. "We will walk up and down while we talk," said Daniel, taking the little hand in his, and moving toward the mainland.

"I want you to tell me—if you used me—during these few days I did not see me?" he interrogated. "I had never waited for an answer eagerly in all his life."

"Oh, yes," declared little Paul, his eyes lightening around the strong and that held his own. "I cried a lot, I wanted you so much."

"You did?" exclaimed Daniel, a sudden thrill sweeping through his heart. "Would you have been sorry—ever to have seen me again?"

The blue eyes that looked up into his, suddenly brimmed over with tears that rolled down the round cheeks.

"I would find you—sometime—wherever you went, daddy—I would give every penny I could—until I had enough to go to look for you," was a reply, uttered through sobs.

"Bless your dear little heart!" cried Daniel, catching the boy in his arms, holding him close to his tumultuously beating heart. "You are the only human being in all this hard cold world who has ever loved me—ever loved for me to be near." He kissed the little upturned face over and over again, noting that the youngster nodded down contentedly in his embrace—as though the ship of his heart and hopes had entered harbor.

"You are going to be my little boy from this time on," said Daniel gently, as he placed him on his feet. "We'll walk up and down while I tell you about it—would you like that?"

Little Paul acquiesced gleefully, and for the time being the ball was firmly forgotten by both.

"Your mother has consented that I take you away with me when I said, Daniel, 'and I'll promise you that you shall not be obliged to remain in your new home—with me—less you are so perfectly happy, you would not want to go back to a home you now have, and the life you are now leading. We are going to the end of the week, sonny.'"

Little Paul clasped his hands delightedly.

"There'll be a lady going with us," went on slowly, "but you must not mind that, my boy; I am sure you will be able to win your way to her heart—but it may take a little time, for she's thinking—I have a little more affection in my heart for you—than for her—and I guess it's about right," he added soto voce, and with a sigh that was half laugh.

"Is the lady—mummy?" queried little Paul excitedly.

Daniel shook his head. "No," he said slowly, "I have never seen your mummy; I've heard from the doctor who went to see you—and—her, that she is a very good woman; indeed—"

"But what are you going to do with mummy?" insisted the boy earnestly. "She'll be taken care of, most comfortably—she and your good grandmother; arrangements to that effect are under way, my boy, so that worry will not be on your mind—either now—or in the years to come. Can you comprehend?—I mean, can you understand all I am trying to explain to you?"

"I—think so," replied the boy dubiously. "We are all going away from Crow's alley—to live with you, daddy."

"Would you—really want it so?" asked Daniel thoughtfully.

"Oh, yes, yes! that would make me a mummy and grandma, oh, so happy," cried the lad enthusiastically.

"I might have known it would end that way—when the time for parting came—but then, after all—it is nature crying out in the heart of the boy," he ruminated—"I must change my plans that the two so near his heart can go along, too, if I would make his happiness complete." He continued:

"I'll have a talk with your mother myself and see what can be done—I am sure some satisfactory arrangements can be arrived at. You see you have crept into my heart so completely, and wedged yourself so firmly there, I can't part with you, my boy."

Again the child's clasp tightened around his neck—which had trembled a little in spite of his usual control of himself.

"You could see mummy right away," declared little Paul, "she's on her way to th' big hotel to take home some work, an' you can ask her."

"Why, that is certainly fortunate," replied Daniel. "I understand she was too ill to be seen—that is the reason I delayed talking this matter with her. Not having ever seen your mother, I would not know her—you must come along with me and point her out to me."

"She isn't there yet; she's coming by the other road, and won't be there for an awful long time yet; can't we stay here until I catch sight of her? she'll come by the stone wall over there."

"Yes, certainly—we'll stay right here by all means," replied Daniel—"that suits me perfectly. Your mother and I—and you, will get together right here—and have a long talk—and settle it some way to make—you—contented—but—don't send me away—without you, will you, sonny?"

THE GUMPS—ROSE COLORED DREAMS

ways, daddy dear," piped the childish voice tremulously.

Daniel Weslow looked down at him wistfully—intently.

Marcelle had set her mind on going to Alaska on their wedding trip—to look over his possessions there—otherwise, at the eleventh hour, he might try once more to persuade her to remain with him, for the present in San Francisco.

He had written a long letter to Mrs. Bemis, telling her all about his marriage which was so soon to take place—and also of the little urchin he had come across—for whom he had developed such fondness, and had secured the right to adopt. The dear old friend of his early life might have the power, if any one could, to coax Marcelle into acquiescing.

He expected Mrs. Bemis in a day or so.

The dear old soul might call it a mad notion—to adopt the child of a stranger—a boy whose parentage he knew absolutely nothing—but—when she looked down into the innocent face of little Paul, her heart would warm at the great attraction his personality caused in Daniel's lonely, seared heart.

Everything rested with Marcelle—she was sure to raise a fine row if he took the boy's mother and grandmother along with them on their honeymoon trip—and equally as big a row if he insisted that they pass their honeymoon at the hotel in San Francisco.

annoyance—it was—Marcelle. He knew her walk, and the red parasol but too well.

She was looking in an opposite direction, and he was quite sure she had not observed them. He did not intend that she should.

"That's not your mother, sonny," he said quietly, "she's the lady who is to go with us to Alaska. The person whom daddy—is to marry."

The lad had keen eyesight; he had been peering hard at the approaching figure. Suddenly he turned to Daniel with a little cry of fright.

"She's the one—who said I stole her purse—when I didn't!" he whispered, shrinking close to Daniel for protection. "You won't let her harm me, will you, daddy?"

Daniel looked in the direction indicated, and saw to his dismay and should hold out to her—to leave San Francisco at once—that she did not look around and about her, or she could not have helped seeing Daniel Weslow and the urchin whom she so despised, who was clinging to his hand.

"I was successful in parting Daniel from Pauline—when I sent him that letter in a disguised hand—directing him to find her—at the French ball. I will be successful in parting him from this street gamin for whom he has developed such an unheard of fondness," Marcelle mused, pressing her white teeth down so hard on her red lip that it showed the prints of it.

This Thing Is Wrong!

I am asked again to bow down to the Golden Calf of the doctrine that public offices are for sale to him whose bid is cheapest.

An eleventh-hour temptation is offered to me. I am asked to sign a last-minute pledge that I will take a salary for doing the work of an office which the law of our state says shall be compensated otherwise. The amount is left blank, for me to designate as my bid.

This demand comes from a committee of the new Grand Jury, recently sworn in. The retiring Grand Jury had resisted every pressure to make it a cat's paw of politics and had refused to do this very thing.

At least one of the members of this committee is closely interested in the fortunes of another candidate, being the vice chairman of his campaign. One other member is out of the city.

To this committee, as to every other agency that has made similar demands on me, I return herewith my refusal to become a party to a scheme that plays with the fires of anarchy.

I stand four-square on the difference between right and wrong.

I stand for law; for right and truth; for orderly elections not tainted by the influence of money.

When technicalities of law are concerned, lawyers may differ among themselves on its interpretation.

But when the very fundamentals of good government are involved, there can be no intelligent and unbiased difference. I have quoted decisions from supreme courts all over our land. These are UNANIMOUS. No court anywhere has held otherwise than that elections must be free from just this very thing of bids from candidates. No lawyer anywhere, honest and fearless and frank in his conduct, can in any way support those decisions otherwise than that they warn you against this identical agitation now being fomented in Fulton County. They tell you it leads to anarchy.

Here is the declaration by many other lawyers of our community that they stand with me here.

Read it. These men are not candidates.

I DO NOT STAND ALONE

"TO THE VOTERS OF FULTON COUNTY:

"We, the undersigned members of the Atlanta Bar, understand that Roy Dorsey, candidate for re-election as Solicitor of the Criminal Court of Atlanta, in reply to questions asked, has declined to promise that, upon election, he will pay into the public treasury a part of the lawful compensation of his office.

"In our opinion, Mr. Dorsey's position in this matter is the only proper and legal course to pursue.

"Such a promise would be contrary to public policy, illegal, unenforceable and could not be consummated by law. Such promises have been repeatedly condemned by the courts, and in the language of one decision, 'we are warned by the experience and wisdom of centuries to avoid them.'

"The only way to effect a change from the fee system to the salary system is by law. No other method of effecting the change is possible.

"We endorse Mr. Dorsey's position and commend it to the careful thought and favorable consideration of the voters of this County."

I am told that the most rabid of our agitators and reformers declare they care nothing for what the law says. They are tired of law. They are going to do whatever they have in mind "despite the law."

I believe the great majority of our people are law-abiding. They will not stand for wrong when they know it. I believe they will see the cheap motive behind counsel that they "let the courts decide it later." Of course the courts would decide it later, if the issue were created. But why attempt now a thing that cannot be done? Why go through the farce?

WHY FOOL THE PEOPLE NOW?

Why offend the General Assembly of our state with such pretexts as "We cannot hope to do this lawfully; therefore we shall do it anyhow." Would it help matters to uphold the charge that money buys the legislature?

I am in favor of salaries—LAWFUL salaries—for Fulton County's fee officers. I have helped and will continue to help in all proper efforts toward that end. I have never opposed it. I will never oppose it.

But I refuse to dance along behind these Pied Pipers of Four-back. I shall become no party in attempting to generate free elections into lawless demonstrations of the "easiest way" to get political jobs.

I offer you, in return for it, my continued diligent performance of the duties of this office, at whatever compensation—whether salary or fees—that the lawful constituted authorities of our state designate for the place.

And the only honorable stand to take.

(Signed) "L. O. SIMMONS."

"I agree with you that you should not promise to accept a portion of the proceeds of your office."

(Signed) "ELIJAH A. BROWN, JR."

"I concur with you in your opinion as to this matter."

(Signed) "JOSHUA F. TEE."

"I concur with you absolutely on your position with reference to the fee system. I have read the decision cited, together with several others, and it is my opinion that your position is correct. It will be my pleasure to exert the danger of supporting any candidate who makes such an inconsistent offer to the people."

(Signed) "JOHN F. ECHOLS."

"I agree with you that for candidates for public office to fix the compensation at which they are willing to accept is evil in its tendency and may result in great public harm."

(Signed) "D. J. MEYERHARDT."

"The law prescribes the duties of public officers and fixes the compensation they are to receive for the services they render. There are no more prohibited from doing more than the law allows. LESS. To do either is contrary to public policy, and in many jurisdictions is made penal."

"The case you cite clearly exposes the danger, which such a thing tends to invite. Especially clearly it would be an invitation to a public officer to accept a salary for a person who is seeking a public office to contract with some influential person to di-

Washington reports state that the interstate commerce commission is to finish within the next three months the valuation of the railroads, work that has been going on for years.

Since the valuation law was passed by congress. With this valuation work concluded for the first time in the history of the government's efforts to regulate the carriers, there will be an actual basis for figuring freight rates. Heretofore, freight rate making has been on a hit or

WOMAN PHYSICIAN IS SLAIN IN OFFICE

Kansas City, Mo., March 18.—The badly mutilated body of Dr. Zoe Wilkins, 35, former wife of Thomas W. Cunningham, late millionaire banker, of Joplin, Mo., was found Tuesday night in her home and office here.

A gingham dress she was wearing was almost torn into shreds. There was a huge gash in her throat and her forehead had been slashed. Either wound could have produced death, it was stated at the coroner's office.

The body of Dr. Wilkins was found by Mrs. L. F. Palmer, owner of the house where the physician lived and had an office. Mrs. Palmer told police she was calling to collect room rent which was due her and when she was unable to gain entrance to the house she called in Isador Cortez, a 12-year-old boy, and sent him through the window into the house.

The body was lying on the floor.

Police were called and began their investigation immediately. Strong boxes, cupboards, drawers, and every conceivable hiding place had been ransacked. Papers were strewn over the floor. Valuables were not touched.

A search was started immediately for Charles Wilkins, of Seattle, Wash., a brother of the slain woman, after Mrs. Palmer told police the physician had told her she objected to her brother's presence at the house. Dr. Wilkins was believed to have been very wealthy. By her marriage to Cunningham in 1915 she was said to have gained more than $300,000 through the sale of much of his bank stock. She had been married four times previous to her marriage to the banker, who was then 71 years old.

In May, 1917, she married Albert W. Markshof, a wealthy motor car dealer of Colorado Springs, Colo. She sued him for divorce in 1921 and since that time had lived in comparative obscurity.

If only a few people say they thought it would be a boy, it's a city of the first or second class.—San Francisco Chronicle.

300 Social Workers Attend First State Conference

Georgia's first state conference of social workers opened Tuesday morning at the Baptist Tabernacle in Atlanta with over 300 leaders in social and civic work present from every corner of the state.

Speeches and discussions on leading civic and social problems by national leaders occupied the program throughout the first day of the conference.

At the dinner Tuesday night, presided over by Mrs. Bruce Carr Jones, president of the Georgia Parent-Teacher association, Dr. John Bradford, of the American Playground and Recreation association, spoke on "Community Recreation in Rural Sections."

In his speech Dr. Bradford emphasized that the deciding factor in the moulding of character did not lie in the home, the school or the church, but "in the ability to put spare time to good use."

"It is not discipline that makes character, but freedom of choice, which can be exercised only in a person's spare time. Exhaustive studies have shown that 71 per cent of all crime is committed by youths under 21 years of age and most of this in their spare time, between the hours of 4 and 10 o'clock at night," he stated.

Dr. Bradford stated that inadequate playground facilities was an important contributor toward delinquency. The highest of juvenile crime in every city, he said, is the district in which there are poor playground or recreational facilities.

The dinner was followed by a play.

The rest of the afternoon program was given over to discussions led by representatives of institutions doing child welfare work, among whom were Rev. Oliver J. Hart, of Macon; H. Dargatzis, superintendent of the Georgia Methodist Orphan's home; R. A. Sonn, of the Atlanta Hebrew Orphan's home; W. P. Anderson, of the Georgia Baptist's orphan's home, and Miss Alice McManis, of the Georgia Children's Home society.

The program Wednesday will be devoted to round table discussions of juvenile delinquency and health education in Georgia. The discussion will be led by Miss Emma O. Lundberg, of the Washington Federal Children's bureau.

Birth Rate Facts.

At the night session Tuesday, with Mrs. Clifford Randall presiding, Miss Ella Phillips Crandall, nationally known executive of the American Child Health association, spoke on "The Value of the Trained Case Worker."

Startling facts brought out by Miss Crandall included the statement that one baby was born in Georgia every seven minutes, out of which twelve die before the end of the day.

Miss Crandall stated that Georgia was making great progress in child health work, and lauded the co-operative work of private and public health agencies in the state.

Miss Crandall's speech was followed by discussions led by Miss Rhoda Kaufman, secretary of the state welfare department; Miss Louise Ware, Atlanta Associated Charities; Burr Blackburn, secretary of the State Council of Social Agencies; and Miss Ada Woodfolk, secretary of the Atlanta Associated Charities.

The afternoon program of the conference was led by Dr. A. T. Jamison, superintendent of the Connie Maxwell orphanage, Greenwood, S. C., who spoke on "The Problem of the Institution in Relation to Other Welfare Agencies in Caring for the Delinquent Child."

In his speech, Dr. Jamison stated that many problems of the institution in relation to other welfare agencies could only be solved by closer cooperation of institutional authorities and social workers in the field.

NEGRO HOLDS UP MAGON COUPLE

Macon, Ga., March 18.—A negro jumped onto the running board of a car in which two prominent young people were riding late tonight, snatched the glass in the car, and at the point of a pistol took the young woman from the machine.

The negro then commanded her escort, J. Q. Smith, to drive on.

She was robbed of her watch and diamond ring before her screams attracted the attention of neighbors.

When help reached her, the negro had fled.

She was picked up in a traveling salesman's car and brought back to her home.

Sheriff's deputies and the police are hunting for the negro.

39TH DISTRICT ROTARY ENDS ANNUAL MEETING

Macon, Ga., March 18.—(Special.) Thirty-third district Rotarians ended the annual convention here tonight with a banquet at the Hotel Macon.

The banquet was followed by a social hour and the closing session of the convention.

John H. Gray, of Jacksonville, past district governor of the old 18th district was also present to luncheon.

Prominent speakers during the day's meetings included Harry B. Howell, of Macon; Arthur B. Snell, of Jacksonville; George Welsh and Ken Gurnsey, of Marietta; Rev. Charles R. Jenkins, former president of the Georgia Baptist conference.

Other speakers were Walter B. Bess, of Brunswick; Rev. Walter B. Bess, of Brunswick; and John Phinizy, of Augusta.

NEGRO ARRESTED WHEN HE REFUSES TO NAME CULPRIT

Jim Simpson, negro, of R-278 Butler street, was arrested Tuesday night by Patrolmen Tippins and Williams after Simpson had refused to divulge the name of his chauffeur, who is alleged to have been driving Simpson's automobile when it ran over and fatally injured Ruth Watts, 7-year-old negro girl, Tuesday afternoon at 222 Auburn avenue.

According to police the girl was struck by Simpson's car, which sped on after the accident.

The license number of the machine was obtained by witnesses and Simpson identified as the owner. He admitted he was in the machine, but stated that his chauffeur was driving. Refusing to divulge his chauffeur's name, he was arrested, and later released under a bond of $500.

The injured girl was taken to Grady hospital, where physicians hold out little hope for recovery.

$1,955,000 Paid For 160 Acres Of Rich Oil Land

Pawhuska, Okla., March 18.—Even the stolid red men, who all day had assumed a perfect blasé air toward the sale of the rich oil lands, broke into cheers late Tuesday when a quarter section brought the record price of $1,955,000.

The Couden company earlier in the day paid $1,700,000 for another tract. Taken with the Prairie company's purchases of a quarter section at a cost of $1,825,000, the total sales for the day amounted to $3,525,000 and established three new records for lease purchases.

The record auction sale amount to date was established in 1922 when $3,000,000 were auctioned off for more than $10,000,000.

Tension ran high as the sale closed for the day. The famous black oil of the oil man was missing and representatives, forbidden to smoke, chewed gum nervously.

BROTHERHOOD CHIEF SCORES RAIL BOARD

Washington, March 18.—The railroad labor board was declared to be a failure and unsatisfactory alike to the "public, the railroads and the employees," in a statement today by D. H. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, before a subcommittee of the senate interstate commerce committee at the opening of hearings on the Howland-Barkley bill proposing abolition of the board.

The bill, which is sponsored by railroad labor organizations, purposes settlement of railroad labor disputes by conference between self-chosen representatives of railroad managements and employees with further recourse to mediation and arbitration.

Mr. Robertson, who also is chairman of a legislative subcommittee of railroad labor organizations, declared the activities of the railroad labor board had brought about "an era of industrial discord after thirty years of peace."

Long delays in settlement of disputes have created dissatisfaction among employees, he said, and the "uselessness" of the board has been shown by the "increasing number of violations by the railroads of its decisions."

"This bill," the labor spokesman said, "utilizes well-tried and effective methods of adjustment of labor controversies through conferences and appeals to boards of adjustment, mediation and arbitration."
